1. DECLARE Application Steps

We'll work with you to ensure you have all the required information and take you through the online application process!

1. Contact us to discuss your product and any questions about eligibility.
2. Create a list of all ingredients, including CAS numbers and % by weight for each one, down to 100ppm (template available). Collate with other profile information such as end-of-life options, VOC emissions testing, or other certifications required for your specific product type. Check the Red List to see if any ingredients are included.
3. Become a Living Future® member – sign up here. Your organisation must have a current membership, connected to a 3E Exchange Account, to apply for and renew Declare labels.
4. Complete your Declare application online, through your free 3E Exchange Account - sign up here.
5. Submit the product for review. We may consult your team for any questions or missing information during this process. Once all required information has been gathered, a draft label will be created.
6. Good to go? We'll then send you an invoice and proceed to publishing the label on our public database. NOTE: Declare payments must be made via invoice, we do not accept online payments in Australia and New Zealand.
7. We may promote your label in our network communications and at relevant events. We can discuss marketing anytime in the process.

*Please note this is a summary of the steps - there may be additional steps or information required depending on the type of product and ingredients contained. We cannot guarantee the final Declare label declaration status or if it meets all program requirements until the ingredients list and accompanying documentation have been fully reviewed.

2. DECLARE[®] Pricing

Annual Living Future membership (USD$250/year) must be maintained. Corporate membership is also available if you have five or more team members that would each like to be members.
